

GUNBUN.

MAGNETICALLY ENGAGING WINES FROM SONOMA COUNTY

From Gundlach Bundschu comes GUNBUN, the latest venture from the sixth generation of loveably unpolished California winemakers, The Sonoma Original. Inspired by Gundlach Bundschu's nickname, GUNBUN is our alter ego and is here to take on the world, one delicious, approachable, and remarkably unpretentious bottle of wine at a time. You're probably asking, what's the deal with GUNBUN? Well, Mr. Seinfeld, for starters it's decidedly easier to pronounce (you're welcome).

It's made by the same unorthodox vintners who make Gundlach Bundschu wines, so you know it's gonna be pretty dang good. But rather than evoking a sense of place and time, GUNBUN wines are crafted to evoke a feeling. You know that moment when the lights drop and your favorite band starts playing, where every-one milling about puts down their phones and turns their eyes towards the stage? That's it. That magnetic force that draws us together. That's GUNBUN.

PINOT NOIR

Sourced from the gentle slopes and clay-based soils in the Petaluma Gap in the Sonoma Coast Appellation

DRINK WITH

We love a good pinot/pork moment, so we recommend trying this wine with pork sliders.

YEAR

2022 was an awesome year for quality, with warm weather creating rich, fruit-forward red wines.

TASTES LIKE

Classic fruit expression, balanced, juicy with hints of raspberry and pomegranate.
